Safe Business Systems NT provides a professional consultancy service specialising in keeping work health and safety management standards simple

Safety Management Systems

Your safety management systems demonstrate how you do business. They are evidence that what you say you do is what you actually do, and that takes commitment. It is an ongoing commitment to compliance and reduction in injuries to reap the benefits of improved financial and safety performance that can be shared across your work place. Safe Business Systems NT helps you develop, establish and maintain systems that are about what you do and help you keep that commitment to yourself, your workers, and your customers.

Develop policies and procedures

Your safety management systems should be driven by your work health and safety policies. Safe Business Systems NT can build on existing policies and procedures or get you started with safety and keep you going by developing ideas that will suit your business.

Risk Management

By law you must control the risks in the workplace. This means identifying hazards, assessing the risk, putting in effective controls where you can't eliminate the hazard, and monitoring and reviewing the controls. Safe Business Systems NT can help you and your workers develop the skills you need to manage wellbeing and safety.

Not sure where you are at with safety.

At Safe Business Systems NT Rosie is up to date with all the changes to Work Health and Safety (WHS) legislation, and works with businesses to identify areas for improvement and compliance to the safety laws. A gap analysis is an on-site assessment of your work place and gives you a no nonsense report addressing any activities you are not up to date. This analysis is supported by a robust safety action plan so you can get on with your business safely. Sometimes we all need a refresh.

Continual support

Safe Business Systems NT works with businesses to provide continual support, reason and practical solutions maintain safety and assist in nurturing a safe environment. Call Safe Business Systems NT to take the complexity out of what should be a simple part of your day.

Testimonials

"Our business has been working with Safe Business Systems for about five years now. Having someone like Rosie on hand to not only give on site advice and recommendations, but who understands local conditions, has been invaluable. It fully engages our people having someone local who they can discuss O.H. & S. issues with and who can respond with professional knowledge relating directly about our operations" John Joseland, General Manager, Fluid Power N.T. Alice Springs.2014

Rosemary Gibbins from Safe Business Systems NT did a thorough job of providing a comprehensive workplace audit, covering all facilities at CAAAPU and identifying areas for improvement to ensure ongoing compliance with the Work Health and Safety Act (2011) and Regulations. In addition, Rosemary delivered a highly informative session to the CAAAPU Board of Directors and Senior Management summarizing the new legislative changes and the corporation officers' responsibility for minimizing the risks in the workplace.

Philip Allnutt, CAAAPU CEO 2014

Rosie Gibbins is director of Safe Business Systems NT, and has lived and worked in the Territory since 1989, in Tourism, Management and Aviation. Rosie believes compensation comes too late, and works with Territory businesses to build on their safety performance and compliance their everyday business activities to prevent incidents occurring.
